ELECTION 2020

IT'S A RACE LIKE NO OTHER

What's ahead for Trump, Biden in final stretch? Some knows and unknowns.

BY MELANIE MASON AND MARK Z. BARABAK

After months of stability, the presidential campaign enters the final sprint amid the greatest upheaval the country has faced in more than a generation: a teetering economy, a pandemic and divisions over racial discrimination and policing that have made November's contest, both sides agree, the most consequential election many voters have ever seen.

The fundamentals of the contest have not changed, though the scheduled debates loom large. Democrat Joe Biden clings to a healthy lead over President Trump in national polls and a narrower advantage in most battleground states, as the two vie for an unusually small number of voters still up for grabs.

Much, however, remains unknown, including the Record heat fuels series of fires

Woodland Hills sets all-time high for L.A. County at 121 degrees. Hot weather also puts strain on power grid.

BY JACLYN COSGROVE, ALEX WIGGLESWORTH, LAURA NEWBERRY AND SAMMY ROTH

An epic Southern California heat wave crested Sunday with numerous all-time high temperature records set, including a 121-degree reading in Woodland Hills that marked a historic milestone for Los Angeles County.

The broiling temperatures put extreme pressure on the power grid, with malfunctions leaving thousands without power and officials warning that rolling blackouts could affect millions of customers, although that threat eventually was averted.

It also fueled a series of fast-moving brush fires
